CHAPTER I

In trying to give a brief overview of the events which led up to the settlement of Hennepin County and St. Louis Park one has to eliminate many events which might seem important to some writers and readers but space forbids such extensive treatment. For more detailed studies of background material one should consult:

Folwell, W.W., History of Minnesota. 4 vols., (St. Paul)1921-1930). This is the best historical treatment of Minnesota and its history.

CHAPTER XIV

Pratt School:

Atwater-Stevens: History of Minneapolis and Hennepin County.
Mrs. Fred Eustis had compiled a large amount of material about the school.

Schools:

Material was secured from the Minute Books of the Board of Education from 1888 to date.

Interviews: Harold Enesvedt, E.S. Hatch, Otto Domian, Bertha Bates and several others.

The St. Louis Park Dispatch and the Minneapolis papers gave further information.

Three papers written by N.H. McKay in courses at the University of Minnesota also added information.

Material on the parochial schools was secured from Sister Albertine of Most Holy Trinity School and from Father Francis Wilkins of Holy Family. Newspapers also gave some information.
